Office Action Summary

Art Unit: 1635

DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restriction

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-24 and 133, drawn to fusion polypeptides and polyhydroxyalkanoate compositions, classifiable in class 530, subclass 350.
 - II. Claims 25-81, drawn to gene nucleic acid compositions and recombinant vector compositions, classifiable in class 536, subclass 23.1.
 - III. Claims 82-132, drawn to recombinant host cell and genetically transformed plant compositions, methods of making transformed host cells and genetically transformed plants for expression of fusion-protein and polyhydroxyalkanoate compositions, classifiable in class 435, subclasses 325, 410, 468 or 243.
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions have different functions. Invention I is drawn to polypeptide compositions which function in various ways in cells to carry out cell processes. Invention II is drawn to nucleic acid compositions which function to synthesize polypeptides.

Art Unit: 1635

Inventions I or II and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are materially different compositions capable of separate manufacture and use. The compositions of Invention III are host cells. The compositions of Inventions I and II in isolated form, have different properties than the same compositions located in a host cell, and may be used independently for assays such as Southern and Western blots.

Inventions III and I are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the fusion polypeptides may be made by other synthetic chemical processes not involving recombinant techniques.

3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their divergent classification and recognized divergent subject matter, and the search required for each of Group I, II, III or IV is not required for the other Groups, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 1635

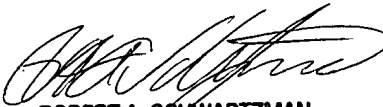

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
